did you know...

Did you know:

- That Captain Manuel Enos, who lived across the street from the Whaling Museum, is considered to be one of the most gifted of scrimshaw artists among collectors today?
- That the Cold Spring Harbor Whaleship Monmouth rescued more than 100 Australian Immigrants from a desert island in the Indian Ocean in 1853?
- That more than 600 individual endangered North Atlantic Right Whales have been identified by researchers? You can try to identify them yourself at this website: http://www.neaq.org/education_and_activities/games_and_activities/online_games/right_whale_identification_games.php
- The last sailing whaleship in existence, the Charles W. Morgan, is undergoing a complete restoration, and is expected to sail again for the first time in 90 years in 2014. Slideshow: <http://www.nytimes.com/slideshow/2010/08/16/science/20100817ship-5.html>

why I volunteer...

Why Russ Nardi of Commack, NY Volunteers at the Whaling Museum

How and why did you come to volunteer at the museum?

I had been retired for about four years and was looking for a way to utilize my time and perhaps help out somewhere. In January of 2010 Disney had a program "Give a Day Get a Day" which would give me a free day at one of the Disney parks for a day's volunteer work. My family was planning a trip to Disney World and I thought this would be perfect. I did my day's volunteer work and I thought, this can't be enough; maybe I could do more. The Wednesday morning shift was in need of a volunteer, which has been my shift now for more than a year.

What is your most favorite aspect of the museum?

I have enjoyed the learning experience and being able to help other people learn about the history of Cold Spring Harbor and Long Island.

What is it about the museum that has kept you returning?

From the very first day the staff made me feel like part of the family. I enjoy interacting with patrons and seeing the smiles on the children as they go through the museum and discover new things.
